Subject: [neara_members] Brandenburg Stone - I was recently in Charlestown, Indiana, to view an artifact on display at the public library there, called the Brandenburg Stone. They have a binder of information on display with the stone and I photographed the contents of the binder while I was there. Subsequently, I assembled the images into a PDF and was going to post it here, but the file space is full, and Yahoo only allows a maximum file size of 5.12 MB per file, so I split the material into three separate PDF files and posted it here:

Anyone who is interested is free to have a look the the three PDF's.

If you get an "access restriction" message, then just go to the link below and click "Join" in the upper right corner of the page, then go back to the previous link.

Jim,

Can anyone in MES verify the ancient Welch/Coelbren translation of the Brandenburg Stone?

The stone is currently on display in the Charlestown, IN Library, but will be moved back to Meade County, KY into their new library in September.

It would be nice to have valid data to present with the stone, in preparation for it's display.

How do I obtain a jpg of the Brandenburg Stone. I've got a piece about it in an upcoming collection of Ancient American articles. Any assistance you may be able to lend me in that direction will be much appreciated.
